PREFACE

This issue of the Social Condition Part of the Statistical Register of New South Wales contains statistics for 1959 (in several instances, for 1960) and earlier years.

The statistics given in this publication should be read in conjunction with the Official Year Book of New South Wales. For the latest figures in the principal statistical series, the reader should refer to other publications of the Bureau, particularly the Statistical Bulletin and the Monthly Summary of Business Statistics.

My thanks are tendered to the responsible officers of the various State and Commonwealth authorities and to others who have supplied information, often at considerable trouble.

K. Davison
Deputy Commonwealth Statistician

Bureau of Census and Statistics,

* Some secondary schools are conducted in conjunction with primary schools, and these schools are included in both groups. The number of individual schools at the end of 1959 was 2,706, excluding 41 evening colleges.

† Figures have been revised to show the number of schools on the basis of the classification in use in 1959. High schools are separate units providing a full secondary course of five years. "Secondary" schools are separate units providing secondary instruction for three or more years, or units being developed into "secondary" schools. Central schools and the Correspondence school include both a secondary and a primary department.

* Under the Public Instruction Act of 1880, it is provided that the teaching in public schools must be strictly non-sectarian. Secular instruction imparted by teachers is defined as including "general religious teaching as distinguished from dogmatical or polemical theology". Religious instruction may be given by authorised teachers of any religious persuasion to children of their religion for a maximum period of an hour each school day, children of different persuasion to be instructed on different days.

Subsidised Schools. Subsidies are granted in the case of children resident in country districts so far removed from any public school that attendance is impracticable. Where a private teacher, approved by the Minister, is engaged by one or more families, subsidy is paid to the teacher at a rate based on average monthly attendance; in 1959, the rates ranged from 8s. 3d. to £1 4s. 3d. per day in the eastern section of the State, and from 10s. 6d. to £1 7s. 6d. in the western section.

No. 29. Private Schools: Pupils and Teachers, 1949 to 1959

NOTE. Any private school attended by children of statutory school age must be certified by the Minister for Education as efficient (taking into account the standard of instruction, qualifications of the teachers, suitability of school premises and general conduct of the school). Private secondary schools must be registered for the education of pupils holding State bursaries under the Bursary Endowment Act. Certified schools at private charitable institutions are included in statistics of private schools; business schools, ecclesiastical seminaries, and uncertified nursery and kindergarten schools are not included.

NOTES:—

1. The classes of pensioners and the maximum rates in October, 1958 are:—

Class A. Widows with one or more dependent children less than age 16 years and with property not exceeding £2,250: £5 per week, plus an additional 10s. a week for each child, in excess of one, under 16 years.

Class B. Widows with no dependent children and over age 50 years (45 years if they ceased to be a Class A widow because they no longer have a dependent child) and with property not exceeding £2,250: £4. 2s. 6d. per week.

Class C. Widow under age 50 years, with no dependent child, if in necessitous circumstances may receive an allowance of £4 2s. 6d. per week for six months after death of husband.

Class D. Wives whose husband has been imprisoned for at least six months, who are over age 50 years or have one or more dependent children, and whose property does not exceed £2,250: £4 2s. 6d. per week.

In all cases, the rate of pension is reduced if income (as assessed) exceeds the allowable limit. From October, 1958, widow pensioners who pay rent and are considered to be entirely dependent on their pension may also receive supplementary assistance of 10s. per week.

2. The State of New South Wales supplements the pensions by allowances for children. At 30th June, 1960, 1,312 widows were receiving allowances, and the amount paid in 1959–60 was £63,026.

No. 3. Consumer Price Index, 1948 to 1960

Base of each Index: 1952–53 = 100.0

NOTES:—

1. For current statistical purposes, the Consumer Price Index replaces both the "C" Series Retail Price Index (first compiled in 1921, and published in previous issues of Social Condition) and the Interim Retail Price Index (constructed as a transitional index in 1954).

2. The Consumer Price Index measures variations in prices of commodities and services as affecting a high proportion of the expenditure of wage earner households. Changes in the pattern of this expenditure since 1950 have been reflected in the Index by the introduction of additional items and altered weighting patterns. The new Index is more comprehensive than the earlier indexes.

* The amounts shown to February, 1959, represent the basic wage together with so much of any margin and any further amount necessary to make the minimum wage payable equivalent to 75 per cent. of the basic wage for males. Following the increase in the basic wage to the 75 per cent. equivalent, the amount shown from February, 1959, is the basic wage exclusive of any margin. This change was applied in State Awards from different dates, beginning in March, 1959.

† Quarterly adjustments for movements in retail prices were discontinued in September, 1953, in both Commonwealth and State Awards. They were restored in State Awards in November, 1955.

No. 5. Weighted Average Minimum Weekly and Hourly Wage Rates, N.S.W., 1939 to 1961*

NOTES—

1. The indexes of minimum wage rates embrace a representative range of occupations and are based on the occupation and industry structures in 1954. The weekly wage rates used in the indexes are the rates payable for a full week's work (excluding overtime), as prescribed in the relevant industrial awards, determinations, and agreements. The hourly wage rates are obtained by relating the weekly wage rates and the weekly hours of work prescribed in awards, etc. The rural industries are excluded from the indexes.
2. The money amounts shown should not be regarded as actual current averages, but as an index of changes expressed in money terms.

† Average rates of wage are for occupations other than masters, officers, and engineers in the Merchant Marine Service, and include value of keep (where supplied).

No. 7. Rates of Wages in Various Industries, Sydney, 1959 and 1960

NOTES:—

1. Rates shown are those provided in awards, determinations, or agreements for a full week's work (excluding overtime) for adult employees in Sydn For some occupations, there are various grades of work to which differential rates of wages apply. For these occupations, either two rates are sho (e.g. 338/– and 376/6), indicating there are only two grades of work, or a range of rates is shown (e.g. 340/6 to 369/–), indicating that there are m than two grades of work.
2. The forty-hour week was prescribed by Act of the Parliament of New South Wales as the standard for industries within State jurisdiction as from July, 1947, and by judgment of the Commonwealth Court for persons working under Commonwealth awards and agreements from the first pay peri in January, 1948. Except where indicated by footnote, the hours in industries for which wages are shown are 40 per week.

* Includes Australian Capital Territory.
† Excludes pay of members of the armed forces.
‡ Total earnings divided by total civil employment expressed in male units. Male units equal the number of males plus a proportion of females based on the approximate ratio of average female earnings to average male earnings.
NOTE. Comparisons as to trend should be made for complete years or corresponding quarters. The quarters are affected by seasonal influences.
